

Correspondent Lending Conforming Agency Overlays

February 2023

Introduction

The purpose of credit and property underwriting is to ensure that each loan meets the quality standards of AIG Asset Management (U.S.), LLC(AMG). A loan meets underwriting quality standards if the borrower's credit and capacity to make payments and the quality of the collateral are consistent with the mortgage Loan Program under which the Mortgage Loan is sold. All standards for determining stable monthly income, adequate credit history and sufficient liquid assets must be applied in the same manner to each borrower. The likelihood of timely repayment is expected to be commensurate with the credit quality of the Loan Program, and the represented value of the subject property is expected to reflect accurately its market value. A Seller is responsible throughout the life of the loan for all representations and warranties related to the data accuracy, omissions, misstatements, misrepresentations, clear title, compliance with legal and lending practice requirements, and product guidelines.

These Conforming Agency Overlays set forth the standards that apply to all conforming loan programs that may be eligible for purchase. The loan originator must have conducted all origination and underwriting procedures without regard to the borrower's race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, marital status, handicap, income derived from a public assistance program, or status in any other class of persons protected under any applicable federal, state, or local law.

Regardless of underwriting method, additional information may be requested at the discretion of the underwriter.

For topics not specifically addressed in these Conforming Agency Overlays, Sellers should refer to the applicable agency guidelines determined by the AUS utilized.

These Conforming Agency Overlays are a part of the Correspondent Lending Seller's Guide (Seller's Guide). All capitalized terms not defined in these Conforming Agency Overlays have the respective meanings set forth in the Correspondent Lending Seller's Guide.
